

Stafford Gives Yankees 2-1 Edge In 1962 Series

By JACK HAND
Associated Press Sports Writer
NEW YORK (AP)—Bill Stafford, a right-hander from Athens, N.Y., pitched a masterful four-hitter against the San Francisco Giants Sunday as the slumbering M & M boys—Mickey Mantle and Roger Maris—awoke with key singles in a 3-2 New York Yankee victory for a 2-1 World Series edge.

Stafford, hit on the left leg by Felipe Alou's line smash in the eighth, had a shutout until Ed Bailey bunted a two-run homer into the lower right field seats with two out in the ninth. Stafford allowed only one hit in the first seven innings of a brilliant duel with Billy Pierce, the Giants' ace. Despite the smashing line drive singles by Mantle and Maris, each misjudged by Giant outfielders for an error and an extra base, the run that turned out to mean the ball game was scored when the Giants failed to complete a double play in that same three-run seventh inning.

Rookie Tom Tresh opened the first pitch of the seventh into short center field. Willie Mays started for the ball, saw he couldn't get there, and settled for taking it on the bounce as a single. Mantle, who had only one hit in 10 previous series appearances this year, hammered a liner to left. Felipe Alou fumbled it on the bounce, Tresh took third and Mantle steamed into second. Maris, with two hits in nine previous trips, then lined Pierce's first pitch to right. Willie McCovey fumbled the ball and Maris wound up on second base. Both runs would have scored, anyhow, on the single.

Don Larsen, who pitched the only perfect game in series history for the Yankees six years ago Monday, replaced Pierce.

When Elston Howard fled to Mays, the ball was hit deep enough for Maris to go to third. Larsen then hit Bill Skowron on the back with a pitch, putting men on first and third with one out.

Clete Boyer bounced to shortstop Jose Pagan, who threw to second in plenty of time for the force on Skowron. However, Chuck Hiller bobbled the ball momentarily before throwing to first, too late to double up Boyer. Maris, of course, scored on the play with the run that eventually meant the difference in this tight ball game.

A huge crowd of 71,434—that paid a net gate of $488,891.74 and boosted the series receipts well over the $1 million mark—watched Stafford and Pierce duel in a brilliant exhibition of fine pitching form through the first 6½ innings.

The Yanks had hit Pierce hard in the fifth inning when Howard doubled down the left field line and Skowron sent a sizzling liner to Jim Davenport that he turned into a double play. But it was surprising when they finally ripped into Pierce in the seventh. With that 3-0 lead on three singles and two Giant errors, Stafford was working one a one-hitter when he went out to start the eighth. Pagan singled to left but was forced by pinch hitter Matty Alou.

Then came the blow that almost felled Stafford. Felipe Alou's smash to the box hit Stafford on the left shin. The dugout emptied and all the players gathered around Stafford while the trainer worked over him. Stafford limped, sat down and finally got up again. With Jim Coates and Bud Daley warming up in the bullpen, many thought Stafford would leave. But he remained in the game and made Chuck Hiller ground into an inning-ending out.

Fourth Floor Jump Leads To Freedom

BERLIN (AP)—Another East German refugee jumped to freedom Saturday night by throwing himself from the fourth floor of a building into a net held by West Berlin firemen.

The man hurt himself slightly from the jump, made in the darkness of night, and was taken to a hospital. A fireman also was hurt by the man's fall and was hospitalized.

The daring jump was made from an apartment house in Bernauerstrasse, the scene of many similar escapes in months past, until the East German regime bricked up doors and windows of houses along the street and tore some buildings down to prevent the flights.

Communist authorities long since moved all the tenants out of the buildings. The house walls along Bernauerstrasse stand on the border, and the sidewalk outside their doors is in West Berlin. Police withheld details of how the jumper Saturday night got past Communist border guards and signaled for the rescue net without being detected.

Tapheswar Zutshi, an Indian advocate of nonviolence, led about 100 people in a prayer meeting in a side street just off Bernauerstrasse on Sunday.

Last week Zutshi wanted to attack the wall in front of the Church of the Reconciliation with a hammer and chisel. He decided to hold prayer meetings instead when police forbade the hammer and chisel attack on the grounds it would be suicidal.

Schirra Terms Orbit Jaunt As A 'Textbook Flight'

HOUSTON (AP)—Astronaut Walter M. Schirra Jr. said Sunday his six-orbit jaunt through space last Wednesday was a moonset-sundown on the moon.

He also told his 12-year-old son, Marty, "I'm sorry, son, I did not see any green cheese."

At his news conference, the first since his flight, he laid to rest all fears about the effects of prolonged weightlessness on man.

"I had no problems . . . no uneasiness . . . no queasiness," he said.

No Fatigue
Later, he added, "I had no fatigue. I was ready to continue through one day."

Calmly and unemotionally, Schirra gave his report and answered questions as if he were delivering an engineering report to a nonengineering audience.

The great adventure for Schirra began at 7:15 a.m. Wednesday and ended at 4:28 p.m., 275 miles northeast of Midway Island in the Pacific Ocean. His flight lasted 9 hours and 13 minutes at altitudes ranging from 100 to 176 miles.

Only One Problem
Schirra reported he had only one real problem on the flight. He said his fellow astronaut, Leroy Gordon Cooper, had stowed a steak sandwich aboard—and he put it out of reach."

He told the 300 assembled reporters the dosimeter he carried aboard showed less radiation exposure than his radium dial wrist watch and he felt radiation thus was no danger.

One of the major problems confronting Schirra on his flight was the testing of the hydrogen peroxide jets, or thrusters, which control attitude in relation to the earth and which regulate yaw, pitch and roll.

Greeted At Airport By 200 Supporters

DALLAS, Tex. (AP)—Former Maj. Gen. Edwin A. Walker returned to Texas on Sunday from what he said was a "short trip to Mississippi that was extended to Missouri."

"I am happy to be back in Texas," he told a small group of supporters and newsmen as he stepped from a private plane at Love Field.

Walker was released from the U. S. Medical Center in Springfield, Mo., on $50,000 bond Saturday night.

Aboard The Plane
Aboard the two-engine plane with Walker were his mother, Charlotte Walker of Center Point, Tex.; the pilot and three aides.

An estimated 200 supporters were on hand to welcome Walker. Many carried signs saying "Welcome Home General Walker."

The former general, committed to the medical center following his arrest at Oxford, Miss., last Monday, smiled and appeared in a jovial mood. He is charged with inciting an insurrection and seditious conspiracy in connection with the riots touched off Sept. 30 at the University of Mississippi.

In a brief news conference, Walker said, "The issue at Oxford was an issue for the good of many states and millions of people."

"When I arrived in Mississippi

He talked freely with reporters as he boarded the plane for Dallas.

Walker, who declined to submit to an examination by government psychiatrists in Springfield, had no complaint about his treatment at the U.S. Medical Center.

"They couldn't have been more considerate," he said.

Asked his reaction when he heard he would be released, Walker replied: "I felt like anyone would. I was happy at the prospect of being let out."

Walker's bond originally was set at $100,000 but this was reduced by Judge Clayton. Mrs. Axie Powell, U.S. commission in Springfield, signed papers for Walker's release after she received a telegram certifying that bond had been posted by Walker's family at San Antonio, Tex.

Met By Mother
As he emerged from the medical center, Walker was met by his mother, who had kept a vigil at the hospital since Walker's admittance six days ago. He greeted her affectionately and said, "You surprised me. Where did you get all that money?"

The press conference was held in the room adjoining Mrs. Powell's office. "I'm happy to be on the move to the next phase or step after a week of some legal and judicial mistakes," Walker said.

Asked why he believed he was being held a political prisoner, Walker replied: "I was held by an order issued by the director of prisons which represents many questions as to its authority and legality."

He said he was not examined by psychiatrists. He said he was innocent of charges against him, and as for the rioting at the University of Mississippi, "Some of the most fantastic stories have been printed which, at the trial, will be proved false."

Then two unidentified students approached Meredith and shook hands as he went to his apartment in Baxter Hall, about 300 yards away.

Meredith was accompanied by two U.S. marshals in addition to the Justice Department employee. An Army jeep with four soldiers followed.

Meredith had spent the weekend in Memphis, Tenn., 87 miles to the northwest. Meanwhile, Department of Justice representatives plan to use the new week to start working for student acceptance of Meredith. Their first step will be an attempt to enlist support from student leaders.

The weekend was tranquil in Oxford, Meredith was away and many students went to Jackson for the homecoming football game, transferred from the campus on Defense Department orders.

The federal military force remained in Oxford. And permanent quarters were reportedly being sought for 20 deputy U.S. marshals—Meredith's personal bodyguard.

Copter Crash Takes 7 Lives

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP)—The American death toll in a U.S. Marine helicopter crash in central Viet Nam climbed to seven Sunday, military authorities announced.

The crash, in thick jungled mountains 330 miles northeast of Saigon apparently brought to 21 the number of U.S. servicemen killed in action in South Viet Nam since last December when the United States launched its program of all-out support for President Ngo Dinh Diem's Communist-besieged government.

Gbedemah Says Nkrumah Is Running Terror Regime

LOME, Togo (AP)—Ghana's exiled former finance minister, Kwame Nkrumah accused President Kwame Nkrumah on Sunday of a terror regime of wholesale arrests, pillage and rape and warned him: "The end is approaching of your intrigues and deception."

Suspicious Are Voiced
He voiced suspicions that two former ministers and the executive head of Nkrumah's Convention People's party—Ako Adjei, Tawia Adamafio and H. H. Coffie-Crabbe—may have been done away with in a dungeon.

He said the latest news reaching him from Ghana "leaves one almost stupefied."

Referring to the Aug. 1 bomb attempt on Nkrumah's life at Kulungugu, 500 miles north of Accra, Gbedemah deplored what he called the "razing of Kulungugu, looting and pillaging of homes, 2,000 or more arrested in the area, and raping of women by some of those sent to restore order."

Nkrumah has blamed a series of six bombings in the capital and elsewhere, in which he said 15 persons were killed and 256 injured, on persons seeking to halt his fight "against imperialism and its handmaidens, colonialism and neocolonialism."

He fired Adjei, Adamafio and Coffie-Crabbe on Aug. 29 and put them under "preventive detention" without announcing a reason for the purge. The official newspaper Ghanaian Times has accused them of being in on the assassination plot and called for their hanging.

Death Penalty
Gbedemah, one of Nkrumah's oldest political colleagues, was dismissed as finance minister in September 1961. A law, apparently aimed at him, set up the death penalty for political offenses. It was passed last October, but Gbedemah already had slipped out of the country. Since then he has accused Nkrumah of dictatorship.

His charges Sunday were in a 32-page pamphlet sent to Ghanaian exiles here from what Gbedemah called his "voluntary and temporary exile in Europe."

Clergymen Criticize Barnett From Pulpit

OXFORD, Miss. (AP)—Gov. Ross Barnett of Mississippi was described from an Oxford pulpit Sunday as "a living symbol of lawlessness."

Most of the clergy of the university town, rocked just a week ago by a riot in which two were killed and many injured, took part Sunday in a joint observance of repentance and prayer.

One of the most outspoken in his criticism of state authorities for their role in the crisis over admission of a Negro student to the University of Mississippi here was the Rev. Duncan M. Gray Jr., rector of St. Peter's Episcopal church.

"The people of Mississippi were told by their leaders over and over again that the federal courts could be defied forever," the Rev. Mr. Gray said.

Noting that a freshman at Ole Miss on Sunday was only 10 years old when the U.S. Supreme Court decision against school desegregation was handed down, the Rev. Mr. Gray said such a student could not be criticized too harshly if in fact he did throw bricks and bottles last Sunday.

"Who could really blame them when the governor of the state himself was in open rebellion against the law, a living symbol of lawlessness?" the rector asked.

The Rev. Murphy C. Wilds of the First Presbyterian church invited his congregation to confess as a community as well as individually.

Even though they did not take part in the disturbance, he said, "sins of omission over the years can be as serious as sins of commission over a few hours. We have been silent when we should have spoken, inactive when we should have moved."

The Rev. Mr. Wilds said that aside from acknowledging past shortcomings, Oxonians have an obligation to show "Christian love and respect for every child of God, rather than hatred and contempt."

The Rev. Wayne Coleman of the First Baptist church said: "Laws we won't like are better than anarchy, insurrection and bloodshed, better than insecurity and fear."

He urged his congregation to be "thinking, reasonable people."

"We have sinned in not being the best of citizens, in not assuming our responsibility as citizens," the Rev. Mr. Coleman said.

TOO FRAIL FOR SURGERY—Three-year-old Marino Anastasiou is shown with a doctor's stethoscope in Washington where he arrived from his native Greece for a heart operation. Marino's mother was told the operation Marino needs would have to be postponed for a year, maybe two. After 10 days of tests, Georgetown University Hospital officials deemed it unwise, possibly hazardous, to operate on the boy until he weighs at least 50 pounds. He now weighs 34 pounds. WITH THE annual observance of National Employ the Physically Handicapped Week, this week, disabled Commonwealth residents were encouraged today with a report from the State Bureau of Vocational Rehabilitation which disclosed an all-time high of 28,655 handicapped persons receiving rehabilitation services during the past year.

Of this number, 9,060 men and women were prepared for and placed in remunerative jobs, an all-time 12-months record for Pennsylvania and all other states in the Nation, according to Dr. John A. Abbruzzese, Chairman of the Pocono Mountains Committee on Employment of the Handicapped. In fact, the number was nearly 2,500 more total rehabilitations than reached by any other state.

This represented a 45.3 percent increase over the 6,235 disabled rehabilitated under the Federal-State program last year, and marked the culmination of the Bureau's program to provide services to as many as possible of the Commonwealth's citizens who become disabled each year, according to Dr. Abbruzzese.

In addition to the cases closed as rehabilitated there were an additional 16,503 handicapped persons receiving the Bureau's services when the year ended. The rehabilitation plans of most of these individuals will be completed this year.

In 1921, when the Commonwealth's program of rehabilitating handicapped persons was in its infancy, only 417 disabled individuals were prepared for gainful jobs. The number increased steadily as the program was expanded with the most significant gains being made during the past three or four years when various types of achievement records were realized.

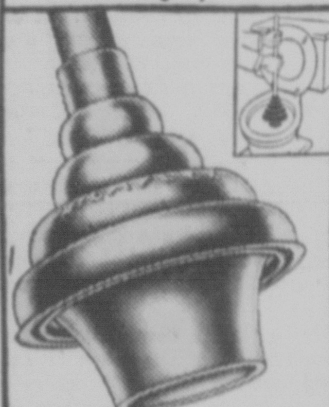

"The men and women who completed their rehabilitation are proving by their performance that it is ability and not disability that counts," Abbruzzese said. "These persons are proving to employers that men and women with physical limitations, after they have been prepared and placed in suitable employment are able to perform their job just as well, or even in a superior manner, to the so-called able-bodied employees."

The Bureau serves the handicapped from its 12 district offices located throughout Pennsylvania including Altoona, Bridgeport, DeBols, Erie, Harrisburg, Johnstown, New Castle, Philadelphia, Pittsburgh, Reading, Wilkes-Barre and Williamsport.

Stroudsburg police said the accident occurred Saturday at 2:30 a.m. Bickhard was traveling south on N. Ninth St. when his car skidded out of control on the wet highway, veering across the southeast corner of the intersection and passing between the pole and a station at the entrance of a service station owned by Lester Abloff.

Police, who said Bickhard was traveling alone, estimate damages at $1,600 to the car and will continue the investigation today.

The police valued the stolen articles at $60.

The second case was the larceny of a target scope and three boxes of rifle shells from the truck of Charles Frank, 513 Queen St.

Frank told police that he parked the truck in front of the house Saturday at 10:30 p.m. He discovered the articles missing yesterday at 11:40 a.m.

He told police the scope is valued at $75.

Investigation of both cases will continue today.

Burglars Loot Home In Roseto

BURGLARS broke into a Roseto home Friday night and stole $30 in bills and an undetermined amount of change. State Police from Easton barracks said last night.

The home, owned by Michael Carrescia, is at the corner of Dante and Lincoln Streets.

State Police said the burglar got in by breaking the glass in the kitchen door, reaching in and unlocking it.

Cabinets in the kitchen and dressers in two bedrooms were ransacked. The money was in a dresser drawer.

Carrescia told State Police that he was out of the home at the time. He discovered the theft at about 10 a.m. when he returned home.

The investigation is being continued by State Police and Roseto police.

Scott To Speak At 6:30 Tonight

Both Friend And Foe

Of the traditional scourges of mankind—war, famine, pestilence and fire—only one continues as a persistent plague in our everyday lives. Famine and pestilence, by the grace of the Almighty, have been practically unknown in the United States to any marked degree. While we have fought wars for the protection of our principles and our nation, we have been spared the ravages of war on our own soil.

The fourth member of the "Four Horsemen of the Apocalypse" however, has left its mark on our people day and day out through the years. Fire, while it has been a boon to mankind when it is controlled and used for his benefit, has also been one of his deadliest enemies causing death, destruction and misery in numerous communities.

The secret, of course, is the proper control of fire.

In our own area, we are blessed with very efficient volunteer fire departments, the members of which risk life and limb when we need help. They are wonderful, and, while they preach and teach fire prevention, their greatest service is when fire gets out of control and becomes a destroying force. The truth of the matter is that fire prevention is an individual matter. It is the responsibility of every man, woman and child in every community across our nation to do this bit to prevent this gift to mankind from becoming a destructive monster.

Most fires are the result of human carelessness in one way or another. There are rules and regulations concerning the proper handling of fire. They have been preached and taught for years. If they are not followed, however, their existence is useless and fire will kill and destroy.

During this week, which is formally designated as Fire Prevention Week, we will be made more conscious of treating fire as a dangerous benefactor of mankind. There will be parades, essays, exhibits, and clinics—and all of them will be important.

The basically important factor, however, is the individual. Unless we are all conscious of the terrible danger of fire every day of the year, it will never be adequately controlled. It is the job and the responsibility of all!

New Ways Of Thinking

An interesting controversy rages in educational circles concerning the "new math," an inadequate term for new methods of teaching, learning and using the abstract concepts of mathematics at all levels, from simple arithmetic to calculus and beyond. Some say it is too "sophisticated" for a child's comprehension; others argue that it is essential to real progress in many of the modern sciences.

Significantly, it is said that many parents are confused by the new math, and that young teachers accept it more easily than the older ones. One New York teacher reports that "the kids are enthusiastic about it."

Regardless of the differences between new mathematics and old, the argument seems to say that new ways of thinking are not easily adopted as a human being grows older. Mentally, no less than physically, he becomes "set in his ways." Yet it has been shown in many schools that some youngsters, even in primary grades, can understand and use the new math as easily as their forebears learned simple arithmetic.

At far-apart intervals in human history new ways of thinking have been forced upon the mind of mankind. Aristotle is credited with changing the course of thinking, and so did the Renaissance. When the world was found to be a globe, not flat, countless faulty concepts of time and space were soon discarded. And now, to the alarm of many older thinkers, two and two do not always or necessarily make four. An eighth-grader or high school sophomore, trained in the new math, may gently remind his grandfather that two horses and two apples do not make four of anything.

'Power Politics' Makes Dems Sweat

By Mason Denison

Harrisburg — Kudos most certainly must go to Republican gubernatorial hopeful William W. Scranton for developing one of the suggest, flattest and most meaningless phrases to be brewed in many a campaign. We're referring to that hard-hitting, devastating, dehydrating and unquestionably demoralizing charge, of "power politics" he keeps leveling at incumbent Pennsylvania Democrats.

As for the donkey riders themselves, they're working themselves into a rather horrible sweat, an almost complete pot and pother trying to figure out what the "power politics" involves.

They're at a complete and despairing loss as to how — specifically — to answer the great "power politics" blast leveled in their direction almost day in and day out by the venerable GOP candidate.

This in itself most certainly is a pretty revolting state when a protagonist can't figure out how to crack back at his opposition! But let's look at the Scranton-coined "power politics" phrase: "Who," "What," "When," "Where," "How" — on the power politics" charge are the unanswered queries baffling Democratic braves in the great wig-

Veteran's Guide

Q — Must the annual income of VA pension recipients be reported earlier this year?

A — The annual income questionnaire will be mailed a month earlier this year for use by those who do not have to wait for W-2 form to report their income. January 31, 1963, is the positive deadline for reporting.

Q — Can the Veterans Administration pay for emergency treatment of the service-connected conditions of veterans in private hospitals?

A — Yes, provided the medical emergency was such that an attempt to obtain admission to a VA hospital would have been hazardous to the veteran and if the emergency treatment is reported to the nearest VA hospital or regional office within 72 hours after the veteran's admission to the private hospital.

Q — Is the U.S. veteran population growing or declining at present?

A — Latest VA figures show the U.S. veteran population declined 127,000 during the 12 months preceding August 1, 1962.

Q — How many veterans are being treated at private hospitals at VA expense?

A — The VA estimates that approximately 2,880 veterans are hospitalized in private hospitals at government expense.

Leo Govin, scientifically examining the metaphysics of bureaucracy, thinks the phenomenon is best explained by Fing-ling's Law: "Once a job is fouled up, anything done to improve it only makes it worse."

New twist: the proverbial Englishman, Irishman, and Scotsman were in a diner for a cup of coffee. When it was served they were annoyed to discover that each cup had a fly in it. The Englishman silently spooned the fly out of the cup and placed it on his saucer; the Irishman did the same. The Scot, however, reached into the cup, grabbed the fly behind the neck, and said angrily, "Okay, spit it out."

Linda was lost in deep thought for a moment, then her face lit up and she announced solemnly, "I approve of it, I guess — unless it clashes with the tablecloth."

The Allen-Scott Report

Barnett To Use Tapes Of Talks With JFK

By Robert S. Allen and Paul Scott

Washington, Oct. 8 — Governor Ross Barnett is fusing a new bombshell in his stormy fight to test the federal government's police powers in the strife-torn school integration showdown involving Negro student James H. Meredith.

He is going to toss out an explosive report of his long-distance telephone conversations with President Kennedy and Attorney General Robert Kennedy on the fateful day they ordered troops to Oxford to restore order on the University of Mississippi campus.

Tape recordings of these private phone conversations will be turned over either to the Senate Judiciary Committee, which is now investigating the Oxford debacle, or the U.S. Fifth Circuit Court of Appeals, where Governor Barnett's lawyers have until October 12 to answer contempt charges.

Senate investigators who have discussed the recordings with aides of Barnett report that the conversations will shed a completely different light on the chain of events that led to the President's decision to dispatch upwards of 16,000 troops to Oxford to quell the riots.

They reveal that the Governor, who made the recordings without the knowledge of either the President or the attorney general, was informed by a group of lawyers that there is no legal bar to his making their contents public.

In their counsel, the attorneys particularly stressed that the recordings were made in the governor's office and involved "unsolicited" calls. Also, the recording device was not directly attached to the phone.

It was pointed out that the Justice Department now permits reports containing information obtained through phone recordings to be passed on to other federal and state police agencies.

ALL THE WAY — Legislators close to the governor contend that airing these conversations will either help the 64-year-old segregationist purge himself of contempt, or give him a big assist in his legal fight to determine the limits of federal police powers versus state police powers.

Already, Governor Barnett has told aides he is prepared to take his case to the Supreme Court and to go to jail to bring a showdown on this constitutional issue.

The governor did not appear at the New Orleans hearing where he was found in civil contempt. This defiance of the court was deliberate. It is part of his strategy to force the Justice Department to arrest him in Mississippi.

That arrest, when and if it occurs, will trigger the legal showdown Barnett is pushing for.

Should the New Orleans court ultimately rule that the governor has not complied with its orders to admit Meredith, the governor faces a possible $10,000 daily fine and imprisonment. Legal briefs for this and other possibilities were prepared by the governor's advisers more than nine months ago. The only thing they weren't prepared for was the violence that erupted the night of September 30.

Note: Assistant Attorney General J. Walter Yeagley, of the Justice Department's Internal Security Division, is making an on-the-spot probe to determine whether any Communist "agitators" were involved in the rioting.

ASSESSING THE RECORD — President Kennedy is blaming himself for some of the painful setbacks that featured this year's session of Congress.

He now recognizes that he sent up too many messages to Congress, and threw too many legislative proposals at the House and Senate.

The President voiced these noteworthy conclusions at a post-mortem legislative meeting with Democratic congressional leaders.

He also said he plans to limit his proposals to seven or eight next year.

"I believe Congress has made an outstanding record of achievement this year in passing my trade and tax bills," reported the President. "However, I wonder if we are going to get this across to the people since our legislative defeats on public care and the Department of Urban Affairs made the big headlines."

"You sent us too many baskets of oranges, apples and other fruit," declared Sen. D-Fla. "We had so much to chew on that we had to throw some of it away."

"We recognize that now," replied the President, pointing to his legislative aides. "We flooded you with too many messages and proposals. It will be different next year. We will limit the number of proposals to seven or eight; maybe less."

"If you do that, Mr. President, we will be able to pass both your Medicare and Department of Urban Affairs," declared Speaker John McCormack. "In one way, the defeats of those bills were victories. I believe we have aroused tremendous public support for both measures and they should pass next year if we hold our present majorities in both houses."

The President said he planned to go all-out in his campaigning to keep the Republicans from taking over in either branch of Congress.

"What about Oxford?" asked Senate Democratic Whip Hubert Humphrey, D-Minn.

"It was a tragic chain of events and errors," replied the President. "Governor Barnett did not keep his word to help us maintain order, and the U. S. Marshals were inexperienced and blundered in their use of tear gas. It was a very sad day."

Inside You And Yours

Dear Doctor...

Dear Doctor: Can cranberry juice cure bladder infections?

Mrs. S. J. (Mass.) Dear Mrs. J.: Often it can.

The active ingredient is a chemical which changes into a germ-killing acid that drains through the kidney. It prevents calcium pebbles from dropping out of solution, and so calcium kidney stones don't form.

In cranberry country, like old Cape Cod, two glasses a day keep the doctor away!

Brown Spots Dear Doctor: Can any cream or ointment cure brown spots that appear on the skin when you grow older?

Mrs. R. T. (Pa.) Dear Mrs. T.: Your doctor can prescribe ammoniated mercury ointment which can usually erase the brown coloring.

Stay away from ointments or creams that contain monobenzone. It bleaches normal skin, too.

Special treatments with electronic needles and freezing applications also lighten your skin — if brown patches worry you!

Opposite Opinions Dear Doctor: My doctor says I'll have to take probenecid for a long time. Another claims that probenecid weakens the heart. Who's right?

Mr. P. A. (N.J.) Dear Mr. A.: Gout sufferers need probenecid daily, just as diabetes sufferers need insulin.

The correct dose prevents sudden flare-ups without harming your heart.

If probenecid leaves you queasy, your doctor can prescribe a similar easy-to-stomach medicine.

Problem Hair Dear Doctor: Why did pills make hair grow on my daughter's neck? How do we remove this hair?

Mrs. A. N. (Calif.) Dear Mrs. N.: Perhaps the pills had side effects which started chin whiskers growing.

On the other hand, the medicine may not be to blame. During early adolescence overactive sebaceous glands bring on some unwanted masculine hair but it soon disappears.

Your doctor can recommend a good electrologist for more persistent stubble.

Are Dyes Harmful? Dear Doctor: Can hair dyes harm the skin or internal organs?

Mrs. C. H. (Ohio) Dear Mrs. H.: Except for allergic skin rashes, hair dyes seem innocent. They are even prescribed to cover up multicolored pin-striped hair.

Hair sprays are "different." Doctors are beginning to eye them suspiciously.

Dear Abby

Time Waits For No One!

DEAR ABBY: About two years ago my husband started seeing another woman. She is younger than I, and single. My husband didn't have the courage to come right out and tell me about it, so he left her letters (addressed to his place of work) around where I would be sure to find them.

When I read the letters I was broken-hearted because we have a lovely family and I thought we were happy. This woman writes about "waiting for the day when we can tell the world about our love." Abby, I would die before I would break up my home.

I haven't said anything to my husband about it, hoping this affair would die out by itself. If I wait patiently, and keep praying, do you think he will get it out of his system?

WAITING AND PRAYING

DEAR ABBY: NO! While you are "waiting and praying," your competition is building bombs in her basement. Tell your husband you know about the other woman, that you love him, refuse to share him and will not tolerate his double life. Tell him divorce is OUT — and let him know you mean it!

DEAR ABBY: A relative (an only child) is an "A" student. He has an 8 o'clock class on Mondays, Wednesdays and Fridays. It seems he has difficulty awakening in time to make this early morning class UNLESS and UNTIL his mother makes a long distance call to get him up. (They live about 200 miles from his University.)

This student sometimes phones his parents the night before and reminds them to phone him in order to make his 8 o'clock class. BOTH parents have master's degrees in education. What is your opinion?

TELEPHONITIS

DEAR TELEPHONITIS: I think these people must have a stock in the telephone company.

Defining The State

The "New York Herald Tribune" prints the following letter that a student wrote to Senator Clifford Case:

"In history class I learned that when a President of the U. S. commits a serious crime he is impeached. Why isn't a Federal governor, who is only assigned to one state, immediately taken out of office when he commits such a serious demerit or as not obeying orders of government?"

The young student is not to be blamed for his or her ignorance. Since our public schools have ceased to teach civics, not only children but adults who have the right to vote, know very little about our government.

My mail on the subject would make an interesting volume and might explain the apathy or extremism of many citizens, who have not yet discovered that we are governed by a Constitution which has managed well for our 173 years, making us the oldest continuous government on Earth.

I hope Senator Case explains to the student that the United States is a federation of sovereign states; that it was the states that formed the federation and ratified the Constitution; that Governors of states are not assigned to their posts by the President of the United States but are elected by the people of each state; that they are not Federal officials; that the Tenth Amendment to the Constitution safeguards the right of each state.

Many of the states existed, as colonies, prior to the Revolutionary War. Others came into the nation by the Louisiana Purchase (1803). Florida was ceded by Spain by treaty in 1819. Texas was brought into the United States in 1945; the Oregon Country a year later and California and the Rocky Mountain States came in in 1848. Hawaii became a state in 1909.

In a word, the United States has been growing as a federation of states from 1776 to the present day. Remaining outside the federation are Puerto Rico and some islands in the Pacific.

For a considerable period of American history, the question bothered the people as to whether a state, having joined the federation, could secede from it. The question was settled by the Civil War. Had the South won the Civil War, the probability is that there might have been a number of nations in the area that is called the United States. This would have been altogether a different kind of nation. However, the North won and the 14th and 15th Amendments to the Constitution were passed.

Nevertheless, there has never been a period in American history when the question of State's Rights was not raised in some part of the country. Under the 10th Amendment, the authority of the Federal Administration in Washington is limited.

However, the welfare and the inter-state commerce clauses of the Constitution gave the Federal Government opportunities for expansion. The In-home Tax Amendment increased the authority of Washington and weakened the states and municipalities because it reduced their access to the citizen's funds through taxes.

The deep Depression, which began in 1929 and really ended in 1938, imposed upon the President many responsibilities and authorities which he had not had before. Also, two world wars in which the United States played a leading role, expanded the powers and responsibilities of the President and Congress tremendously.

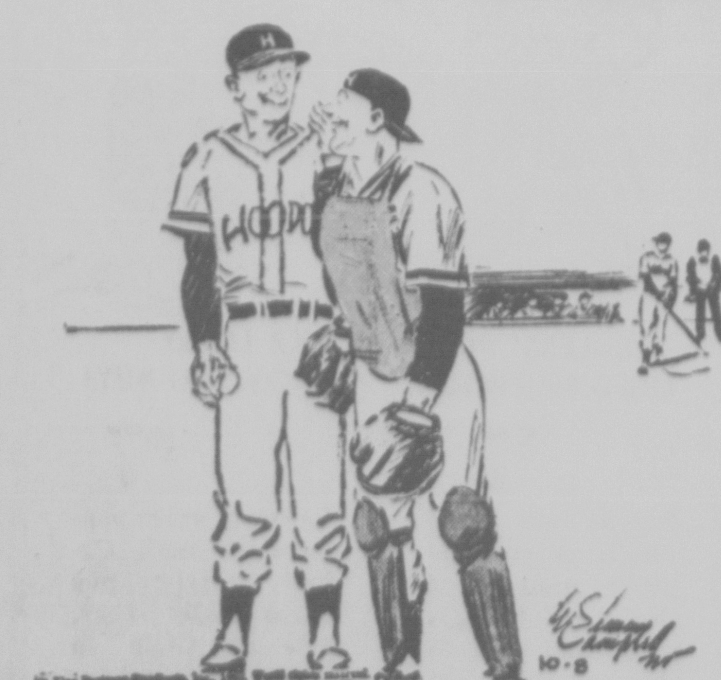

Also, it is to be noted that the means of transportation and the mobility of the American people have changed many aspects of State's Rights.

The automobile, for instance, brings areas together and the "big city" development has the effect of associating the states more closely. For instance, the "big city" for the University of Mississippi is Memphis, Tenn., just as the "big city" for parts of New York and Connecticut is New York, Chicago, is politically in Illinois, is geographically related to Indiana and so it goes.

It used to be that a people were emotionally tied to their states, but nowadays, Americans are all over the place. A New Jerseyite, for instance, might have a job in New Mexico and spend his life there. In a word, for some people state boundaries do not mean as much as for others and state emotions do not run as high for some as for others.

"Christmas Is Near So Beat The Rush," Says Knipe

THIS IS THE WINDOW that belongs to the store of quality and to a man known for service—Knipe's TV-Hi-Fi-Stereo, 18 N. Sixth St., Stroudsburg. The old Edison, in the window, was purchased in 1906 by Knipe's grandfather and is still in operating condition. Harold Knipe is known throughout the area as "the man" when it comes to specializing in all types of sound.

Friendly Advice To Be Headed

THIS is October 8 and Christmas is not far away—how many of us wait until the last moment to do anything about it? What is the result? Rush-rush, heartburn, tension, headaches, throngs of the same kind of people and what is worse—"Sorry, we're all sold out of that particular item."

Here's a suggestion from Knipe's Radio-TV-Hi-Fi-Stereo, 18 N. Sixth St., Stroudsburg, "Do-It-Now." What nicer gift could there be than something that will give years of pleasure to that someone special.

Home entertainment is something that everyone wants and can use. At Knipe's the keyword in home entertainment is "Quality and Service" in everything from the smallest transistor radio to color TV to a complete six-foot stereo with AM-FM radio, tape recorder and stereo record player.

A few of the quality name brands handled and serviced by Knipe are: RCA, Voice of Music, Bell, Stebel-Carlson, Channel Master, and many more.

In color television it's RCA, "First Name in Home Entertainment," with glare-proof high-fi color tube, new vista tuner and only two color controls to make tuning easy. RCA color sets start at only $195 and Knipe's liberal trade-in starts at $50 and up. How about having fun with a tape-recorder, gives hours of enjoyment and has many, many practical uses.

Then there is always hi-fi and stereo, of which Knipe is blessed. Some of the finest names in the business grace Knipe's floor. VM, Bell, RCA—all beautiful—not only in performance, but also in furniture styling—just about any price range you could ask for in this department.

Venezuela Starts Slum Clearance

CARACAS, Venezuela (AP)—A $30-million loan for Caracas slum clearance was announced Sunday by Teodoro Moscoso, head of the U.S. International Development Agency, after a talk with President Romulo Betancourt.

Moscoso said the loan was the first of a series contemplated for slum clearance in Venezuelan cities under the Alliance for Progress.

QUESTION: We used hardboard for finishing an attic room several months ago. We put no finish on it, desiring to keep it in its natural brownish color.

BUT, due to a change in the color combinations in the room, we now wish to paint it. Is there any special technique for painting it?

ANSWER: Hardboard possesses many of the characteristics of natural wood and, in general, the usual practices in painting natural wood are applicable to hardboard.

It is best to use a sealer to prevent absorption of the top coat. The sealer can be shellac, most latex paints, enamel undercoaters, varnish or alkyd-base primers, and any of the various special sealers. Be sure all dirt and grease are removed from the hardboard before applying the sealer, especially since the material was installed some time ago.

The top coat is a matter of choice, but the usual practice is to use flat paints for walls and ceilings, and semi-gloss or gloss enamels for surfaces where high er resistance to abrasion, washing or moisture penetration is required.

One more point: if there are nailheads showing, they should be covered with an anticorrosive primer. If brads were used, drive them a little below the surface and cover them with putty. Smooth the putty and then seal and paint in the regular way.

Hamill's Paint Store Now Features Flo-Jel

HAMILL'S Paint Center, 37 S. Courtland St., East Stroudsburg, now has Flo-Jel Wall Paint in the most wanted colors of today.

It's Thixotropic (the Greeks had a word for it) Paint at its best. Flo-Jel is superior (by actual test) to the popular drippless paint on the market, moreover, it is less expensive.

Unique Flo-Jel is thicker than conventional interior paints and is designed to provide cleaner, quicker and easier application than you've ever experienced.

It may be applied by brush or mohair roller on painted or unpainted wood, plaster, wallboard, wallpaper (non-metallic) and brick.

Creamy consistency clings to brush or roller and won't drip, spatter, sag or run. Sets to the touch in 30 minutes and dries in one hour to a velvety flat finish.

Of course, it's odorless and scrubable. Non-fading colors will not crack, chip or peel. You can start, stop and resume painting when you wish. Flo-Jel may be touched-up or blended perfectly without any lap marks or variation in color or sheen. Clean-up brush, roller and hands with soap and water.

Identical matching colors are available in Soft Sheen Low Lustre Enamel, Deko alkyd flat and Deko-Flex Vinyl Flat Finishes. You can also get Felton-Sibley's famous Flo-Jel Satin and Gloss White Enamel.

It is the same drippless, runless, easy working enamel that so many people have been raving about for years. Get some Flo-Jel today and see why Felton-Sibley has been looked on as the standard of quality for 99 years. Hamill's Paint Center has the full line of Felton-Sibley Paints.

Your Horoscope

By FRANCIS DRAKE

Monday, October 8

March 21 to April 20 (Aries)

If you are realistic, as you should be, you will take this day with its fine values and opportunities. And its advantages in your usual sensible manner. Some impediments, many advantages.

April 21 to May 21 (Taurus)

Your affairs and the work expected of you should run smoothly if you aim for this with foresight and consistency. Trading, buying, manufacturing, traveling, agreements, among favored activities.

May 22 to June 21 (Gemini)

Gingerly does NOT do it as ably as does "with a will," and backed by knowledge of your subject matter. Yet keep your eyes open for the wily and unreliable. No idle dreaming.

June 22 to July 23 (Cancer)

Moon aspect suggests a calm demeanor, steady forces, of combat irritation and tangents. Curb a tendency to wander from prescribed courses; see both sides of issues.

July 24 to August 23 (Leo)

Remember that ambition can destroy its possessor, and you will understand the value of controlling it and other allied qualities, such as over-aggressiveness. With these thoughts in mind, you can have a fine day.

August 24 to September 23 (Virgo)

An excellent time in which to establish the basis for a more settled way of life. Plan all moves wisely and with future security in mind.

September 24 to October 23 (Libra)

An olympic-sized order for this day consists of concise planning, accurate accounting and movement, and winding up an enthusiastically and precisely as you began. You can do it.

October 24 to November 23 (Scorpio)

All the help you can get, take, aiming to avoid crowding self and running down health. However, just take "the best of two evils" when you can prevent ANY unwanted conditions.

November 24 to December 23 (Sagittarius)

Longing without doing something definite about achieving those wishes is not like the real you. Strides in business, family matters and other areas can be made with pleasant consequences.

December 24 to January 20 (Capricorn)

A good spot for continuing anything worthwhile of yesterday's and other past plans. Actions. Don't scatter energies or follow undetermined courses, but pursue your way steadily, confidently.

January 21 to February 19 (Aquarius)

Prosperity does not come of itself, nor through mere wishing. You must work for it, in whatever form desired. Start early and do not watch the clock; you will be happy.

February 20 to March 20 (Pisces)

A long time spent over one matter tends to dull senses and incentive. A little daring, rightly employed, could flavor things smartly. Recall an old task that worked. YOU BORN TODAY have a multitude of fine qualities and the disposition for attainment of high order and contentment. Instantly you are precise, loyal, neat, full of love for mankind and things in general. You may take up theatricals, writing, agriculture or architecture as pastime and be as successful in your regular work. Don't question your own ability, but strengthen it daily. Birthdate of John May, early American statesman, author, Gilbert Gary, steel industrialist.

Hunting Licenses Show Increase In Monroe Co.

MONROE and Pike County has shown increases in the number of Pennsylvania hunting licenses issued to residents and non-residents in 1961. This is contrary to the statewide norm which showed a decrease in the amount of licenses obtained.

Monroe County in 1961 issued 7,918 resident permits which is an increase of 49 over 1960. Pike County showed a gain of 247 over 1960 when 3,982 licenses were purchased.

In the non-resident category, Monroe County showed an increase of 28 while Pike County showed a decrease of 47.

For the first time in 12 years, the number of Pennsylvania hunting licenses issued to residents dropped.

M. J. Golden, Commission Executive Director, said, "It is too early to tell if the trend is developing towards fewer hunters in Pennsylvania. We have had temporary declines several times in the past, either because of wars when many young men were away in the armed forces or in years when general economic conditions did not permit some persons to hunt. The latter situation may have caused the drop last year."

Over 25 percent of the loss in license sales occurred in the Pittsburgh area.

Thai Forces Start Maneuvers

BANGKOK, Thailand (AP)—U.S. Army and Thai forces have started an 11-day foot patrol maneuver along the Thai-Burmese border.

American units involved are two platoons of D Co., 1st Battle Group of the 25th Infantry Division.

The exercises will cover more than 875 miles of remote mountain trails in one of the most rugged parts of Thailand at the height of the monsoon season.

Ike To Appear In Pittsburgh

PITTSBURGH (AP)—Former President Dwight Eisenhower will speak at a Republican rally in Pittsburgh on Oct. 25, a party says.

Allegheny County Republican Chairman Paul Huges said Saturday Eisenhower and all of the GOP statewide candidates in the forthcoming election will appear at Pittsburgh's Civic Arena.

Warriors Romp To 52-7 Victory

EAST STROUDSBURG State College Saturday ran roughshod over a hapless Kutztown eleven before a Homecoming Day crowd of more than 2,000 persons.

Coach Jack Gregory's Warriors scored the first eight times they got their hands on the ball. Halfback Toby Barkman scored three of the TD's, while Quarterback Bill Lewis threw a pair of scoring aeriels, one to Barkman in the third period on a 48-yard play.

Barkman scored the first two Warrior touchdowns within three and a half minutes of the game. He ran 11 yards for the first following a recovered fumble on the Kutztown 31, and then carried 12 yards on the drive which covered 95 yards in nine plays.

Third Straight
The victory was the third in a row for the Warriors and their second straight Pennsylvania State College Athletic Conference win.

A fumble by the Golden Bears following the game-opening kickoff led to the first ESSC scoring drive. Horace Cole recovered for the Warriors on the Kutztown 31 and took but three plays for the home club to score.

Barkman hit the left side for seven. Jan Bellevue smashed through the middle for 13 and Barkman again carried for 11 and the TD. Jerry Wasilechak's boot split the uprights for the 7-0 lead.

Beautiful Boot
Kutztown was forced to kick after traveling from their own 30 to the 41 and a beautiful boot put the Warriors back to their 5-yard line.

But nine plays later, ESSC hit pay dirt as Barkman again exploded into the end zone on a 12-yard run with only 3:26 gone in the game. Wasilechak again converted for a 14-0 advantage.

The onslaught continued. Kutztown was forced to punt once more and the Gregory contingent took over on their own 21.

Before the first period came to a close, the Warriors had racked up a first down in two plays with Bellevue and Barkman carrying for 11 yards. Dom Villani hit the right side for six more yards as play entered the second stanza.

Hard Ground Game
Continuing to drive hard and staying mostly on the ground the Warriors pummeled out one first down after another. The longest play of this drive was the only pass of the march — from Quarterback Bill Lewis to End Joe Heverin covering 18 yards. Gary Willhide carried the mail this time into the end zone on a 15-yarder. The conversion attempt missed.

ESSC's defensive unit continued to shine brightly as Kutztown failed to unleash any sort of a scoring drive on the following kickoff. The Bears managed a first down, but that's all. After six plays, the punt situation cropped up again.

Taking over on their own 20, the Warriors immediately launched an 80-yard drive into pay dirt—this one taking 12 plays. And everybody was getting into the act.

Many Contributors
Denis Getman, Bob Mahler,

Villani, Barkman, Bellevue, Lewis and Heverin all contributing in the march. The payoff was a Lewis aerial connecting to Bellevue who was one of three pass-catchers wide open in the end zone. Wasilechak converted and the score mounted to 27-0.

Late in the second quarter, the Warriors' Joe Bahnatka intercepted a Kutztown pass to give ESSC possession on the visitors' 24-yard stripe. A quick-opening draw play with Wasilechak carrying through the right side of the line zipped the score to 33-0 at halftime.

It took the Eastburgers only 39 seconds to score the next TD as play resumed in the second half. Starting from their own 45 after the kickoff the Warriors scored in two plays.

Barkman Again
Villani carried for seven, then Barkman hauled in a pass from Lewis on a 48-yard play for the tally.

The Bears were still unable to move the ball for any length of time—despite the fact Gregory was throwing in substitute after substitute.

A Kutztown punt allowed the Warriors to take over on their own 40 and it took but eight plays for ESSC to march the 60 yards into pay dirt.

This time it was Bob Gelatko, a freshman halfback, who carried for three yards and the score. Wasilechak converted and the Warriors were ahead, 46-0.

Melale Tallies
The final ESSC score was carried over by another comparatively unknown to the Warrior squad, Jon McHale, who scampered for five yards and the TD, culminating a 54-yard drive in 11 plays.

Kutztown finally broke the ice late in the final period on a 33-yard march which took six plays while the ESSC varsity was sitting on the bench. Bob Quier threw the scoring pass to Roy Semmel from the 11 for their lone TD.

Barkman's three TD's shot his total to six for the young season.

Cavalier Fumbles Costly

Leighton Scores Win Over E-burg

THE magic toe of Kerry Bowman today separated East Stroudsburg High from an unbeaten season as the second string Leighton quarterback converted an extra point midway in the fourth quarter to give the Indians a 14-13 triumph over the Cavaliers Saturday night.

More than 4,000 partisan fans watched the ball-controlling Cavaliers dominate most of the 48 minutes of action before succumbing to their own misdeeds at Memorial Stadium.

Leighton, now riding a four-game unmarred win streak, capitalized on two East Stroudsburg fumbles to pull out what was an apparent defeat.

Trailing 13-7 with four minutes gone in the final quarter, Leighton's Leroy Fritzinger recovered a fumble in the Cavaliers' backfield when quarterback Jack Van Horn and halfback Jimmy Steele got crossed up on a version of the Statue of Liberty play. Fritzinger pounced on the loose pigskin on the Eastburg 38.

Ties Score
In two plays the Indians had a touchdown as quarterback Davey Werner on a fake pass scooted 19 to the 19, and halfback Paul Keiser on the short end of the scissors-type double reverse went the remaining distance through the left side of the Cavalier line to knot the count at 13-all. It was here that Bowman took the extra point which proved to be winning margin.

East Stroudsburg, suffering its first loss in 13 games, was set back on its heels in the first period when again the opportunity-minded Indians recovered a Cavalier fumble with the contest only four minutes old. This time it was Mike Ajgyn who bobbed the pigskin and the same Fritzinger who recovered on the East Stroudsburg 28.

In three plays Leighton had a 7-0 edge as Werner drove to a first down on the 11, and Werner recovered a touchdown pass to Jake Boyer, Bowman's first of the two all-important extra points was good.

This was the last Leighton effort of offensive of any note until the final period. The Cavaliers came back with a ground and air attack that knocked the visitors back on their heels for the next 33 minutes.

East Stroudsburg shot back in the early minutes of the second quarter when they marched 74 yards in 10 plays. With workhorse Steele doing most of the lugging and Van Horn finding end Pete Maaser with a 20-yard aerial, the Cavaliers tied the game with 9:29 left in the second stanza.

Steele, totting six times and eating up 52 yards, climaxed the picturesque march by slanting over from the one. Ajgyn placed kicked the extra point and it was 7-7.

Another March
Midway in the second the Cavaliers generated another all-the-way march, going 66 yards in 14 scores.

ties. Again it was Steele doing the bulk of the lugging.
The 5-11, 165-pound senior carried seven times, covering 38 yards before Van Horn sneaked over for the go-ahead six-pointer and a 13-7 Cavalier margin. In between Ross Transue added to the Indians' defensive misery by picking up an all-important first down via a 10-yard burst up the middle, and Van Horn cut in for another nine yards and another Cavalier first. Ajgyn's extra point try was blocked.

The first half statistics showed how East Stroudsburg dominated play. The Cavaliers racked up 12 first downs to Leighton's two, one of which the Indians got on a desperation maneuver which ended the first half.

Although they did not more scoring East Stroudsburg controlled the game the entire third canto, holding Leighton on downs every time (three) they handled the ball. However, Eastburg couldn't get a sustained attack going in the period as Keiser thwarted one Cavalier bid by intercepting a pass on his own 21; and a bad pass from center forced East Stroudsburg punter Doug Hilyard to run with the ball, the Indians possession on Eastburg's 34.

This was one gift Leighton failed to cash in as Van Horn pulled the "reciprocal trade agreement" and intercepted Werner's pass to give the Cavaliers the ball again on their own 32.

The fateful fourth opened with Hilyard booting 51 yards to Leighton's 11. Three plays later the Indians Eddie Vymzal punted 33 yards to the Cavaliers 34.

It was here that the complexion of the non-league tussle changed. Steele banged four yards to the

Lakers Stay Alive

BOB BONSER of the Saylorburg Lakers and Brian Hill of West End tangled in a brilliant pitcher's duel over 14 innings yesterday before the Lakers scored the winning run and beat the defending champions of the Pocono Mountain Baseball League, 4-3.

The victory for the Lakers kept alive their hopes of winning the title this year, squaring the best-of-three championship playoffs at one apiece. The deciding battle will be played next Sunday.

For Hill, it was his first mound defeat of the season, although hurling well enough to win almost any ball game. He struck out 13, allowed two earned runs and eight hits over the 14 frames he worked. His record, including the playoffs, now stands at 13-1.

Bonsner also turned in a fine pitching performance, allowing but one earned run and 10 hits while issuing but one walk. He struck out three.

The Lakers jumped out to a quick 2-0 lead in the top of the first, but the West Enders came back with one of their own in their half of the same inning. West End tied it up at 2-2 in the second inning, then went ahead, 3-2, notching another tally in the fourth.

But the Lakers tied it in their half of the sixth with another singleton, and that's the way it remained until the fateful 14th.

Pocono Cards Lose, 7-6, To Lansford

SWIFTWATER — A rusty Pocono Mountain Joint High School eleven Saturday suffered its second defeat in three contests this season before a disappointingly small turnout here.

The Cardinals, who hadn't played a game since Sept. 17, dropped a close 7-6 decision to Lansford.

The game marked only the eighth in the history of the school, still playing mostly a junior varsity schedule, and the coaching staff unanimously agreed it was the finest game yet played by the Cardinals.

Lansford scored first, getting their only touchdown in the first period when Tom Radocha returned a punt for 60 yards and the score. Ron Mihlko split the uprights for the conversion which turned out to be the deciding point.

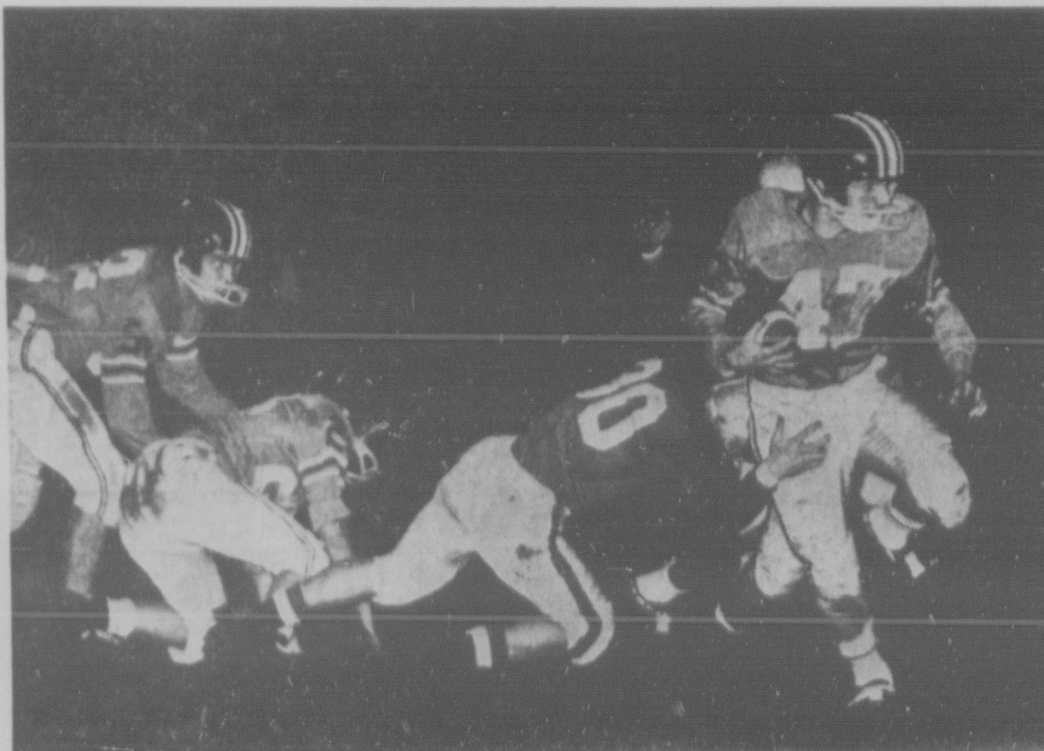

The Cards didn't score until the final period on a 50-yard drive. Driving down to the Lansford 5-yard stripe, the Cardinals' Tom Battisto threw a perfect scoring pass to End Mike Campbell for the TD. The missed conversion cost the game, however.

Just before halftime, Pocono Mountain had driven down to the Lansford three but time ran out before they could get off another play.

Score by periods:

Pick Up Liston Again In Park

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Sonny Liston, world heavyweight boxing champion, was picked up by a guard in Fairmount Park Friday night and later released. No charges were lodged against him.

The guard, Aaron Smith, said he stopped a 1962 Cadillac because it was moving unusually slow. He reported there was a strong odor of alcohol around the car and that the driver was unable to produce an ownership registration for the automobile.

Li, Edward Kelly, in charge of the guards, said a search of the glove compartment turned up the registration card, which showed that Liston's wife, Geraldine, is the owner.

Telephones Neighbor
Liston was told to get someone to take him home and he telephoned a neighbor to do so. Smith said Liston accused him of being "prejudiced against me." Francis Deegan, park guard superintendent, commented: "He was treated exactly as anyone else would have been treated. The officer did his duty, and he did it in the proper manner."

Stafford Puts Yankees 1-Up On Giants

The Giants, who had fought back so many times en route to their pennant victory in the National League, weren't dead yet. With the West Coast team trailing 3-0, Willie Mays opened the ninth with a double to the left field corner.

Stafford made McCovey bounce out and got Orlando Cepeda on a fly ball to right, before Bailey drove a pitch into the lower right field seats, beyond the reach of Maris, for a two-run homer.

Stafford then closed out the game by getting Davenport on a fly to Tresh in left center.

After the game Stafford had only praise for the fine game that catcher Elston Howard called. Usually a control pitcher, Stafford walked two men in the first inning. But that was all. He struck out five en route to his first World Series victory.

It's Ford Today

Manager Ralph Houk said Whitey Ford, who won his 10th series game in the 6-2 opener, will pitch Tuesday's fourth game at Yankee Stadium. Ralph Terry, 2-0 loser of the second game will pitch the fifth game Tuesday.

The Giants will counter with Juan Marichal, an 18-11 pitcher during the regular season.

Pierce, a tough luck loser so many times in this same ball park when he was with the Chicago White Sox and Detroit, said, "You do your best and that's all you can do. I thought we'd get to Stafford. He was reaching around early. But he came on strong."

Weather Cooperative

After a few days of rain, the weather turned cooperative. The sun kept breaking through the clouds although a sharp 20-mile-an-hour wind swept through the triple decked stands that housed the largest Yankee Stadium series crowd since 1958.

The Giants need a win in one of the next two to stay alive and take the series back to San Francisco for a sixth game Thursday.

Bad Hop, Mistake Blamed For Loss

By JACK STEVENSON
Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — In the gloom of the San Francisco Giants dressing room Sunday afternoon, a bad hop and a mistake on a pitch were blamed for the 3-2 loss to the New York Yankees in the third game of the World Series.

"Mickey Mantle's hit in the seventh took a high hop and that opened things up," Manager Alvin Dark said quietly. "Then Billy Pierce gave Roger Maris a pitch where he didn't want to throw it."

Maris drove in Tom Tresh, who had singled in opening the seventh, with Mantle also scoring on the hit.

Pitch Right Over

Pierce was trying not to give Maris anything good at all but his first pitch was right over the plate and the Yankee power hitter slugged it into right field.

"It was a fast ball," Pierce said. "Let's say it wasn't what I wanted to throw but it got there anyway."

Maris wound up on second when Willie McCovey bobbled his hit, and then in what might be the key play, he tagged up and went to third on Elston Howard's fly to center field.

"I expected him to go," said Willie Mays, whose throw wasn't on the mark. "The fly was long enough that I expected him to run."

Fortunes Frown

Maris scored the winning run as fortunes frowned again on the Giants. After the Yankees' Bill Skowron was hit by a pitch, Clete Boyer grounded to shortstop Jose Pagan, who threw to second for one out; but Chuck Hiller bobbled the relay and Maris crossed the plate with run No. 3 as Boyer was safe at first.

Dark said the ball appeared to stick in Hiller's glove but the second sacker didn't think so, saying, "I didn't even have it in my glove. I honestly don't know what happened. I just didn't get a good hold."

Most of the Giants had trouble getting acclimated to their first game in Yankee Stadium.

Felipe Alou said after the ball bounced on Mantle's hit, "It almost hit me in the face."

Bailey Homers

The Giants scored their two runs on Felipe Alou's ninth inning homer. Yet two innings before there was some amazement when he swung on a ball three and no strike pitch from Bill Stafford.

Dark said no signal went to Bailey to take the pitch and Ed said he thought he had a good line on the pitch and then didn't.

"You can't see in this ball park," Bailey complained. "The second pitch almost hit me in the teeth. And I've never seen Felipe have trouble in the outfield."

Despite his troubles, Alou came up with the fielding gem of the afternoon, racing to the fence in the second inning to grab Howard's liner for the putout and rob him of extra bases with Mantle on first.

Dark will shuffle his lineup facing southpaw Whitey Ford Monday. Felipe Alou will remain in left field while right-handed hitting Harvey Kuenn goes to right.

In Candlestick Park, Felipe usually plays right and Kuenn left. But there the right field is the sun field and more difficult and in Yankee Stadium it's the other way around.

PEN ARGYL—Coach Elwood Petchel and gridiron pulverizers here in Pen Argyl must be wondering today just why the Mountaineers of Stroud Union High School are still winless.

Coach Jerry Stulgaitis' eleven Saturday almost got out of the losing habit—and against the Green Knights, one of the area's grid juggernauts, yet!

"They (Stroud Union) certainly must have been up for this one," said one Pen Argyl fan after the game. He was answered by another immediately: "Yeah, up higher than that astronaut, Schirra."

Lead At Start

Up they were.

The Mountaineers got off to an almost immediate 7-0 lead when Ernest Barra recovered a Knight fumble on the PA 15. Five plays later, the Stulgaitis unit went into pay dirt, with Tom Schatzman carrying the mail from the 3-yard line and the TD. Ed Nevil kicked the conversion.

But then the dynamic duo of Halfbacks Gary Heard and Bob Engler went into action. Engler, on two carries, ran 26 yards to the 40, then carried on a reverse for a 23-yarder into enemy terrain on the Stroud Union 37.

Heard interrupted for a gain of 14 yards, and then it was Engler once more for consecutive carries of 11, nine and three into pay dirt. Heard was stopped by the Mountaineers on his run for the conversion and Stroudsburg led, 7-6.

Don't Take Long

The next TD didn't take long at all for the Knights. Following a punt, Engler carried on a reverse for 66 yards before being pushed out of bounds on the SU 27. On the next play, Heard carried out his assignment beautifully, scampering the remaining distance into the end zone. Heard also ran for the extra point and a 13-7 margin.

But the Mountaineers were undismayed and not to be denied. They launched an 87-yard drive.

Penn State Remains Undefeated

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP) — The Penn State Nittany Lions headed for home Sunday with their third straight football victory, a come-from-behind 18-6 defeat of Rice.

The Lions, who beat Navy and the Air Force in their first two games at University Park, Pa., were spurred to victory Saturday night by the passes and defense play of Pete Liske.

Dave Hayes scored all three touchdowns as State, ranked No. 4 nationally last week, overcame the young, but stubborn Owls, Walter McReynolds, a sophomore passing specialist, led Rice.

Rice led 7-6 at the half on McReynolds' 24-yard pass to Gene Fleming.

Starts Drive

Roger Kochman's 17-yard run on the first play of the third quarter started the Lions' to a 68-yard scoring drive. After Kochman's run to the state 49, Liske hit Dave Robinson with a 15-yard pass and found Junior Powell on the sidelines for a 22-yard gain to the 5. Hayes got what proved to be the winning touchdown three plays later from the three.

Late in the final period Liske intercepted one of McReynolds' passes. Two plays later Hayes scampered the final 16 yards to score.

State had scored first, covering 31 yards in 10 plays, with Liske's passes again providing the damaging blows with first downs on the Rice 20 and 7. Powell, Hayes and Liske powered to the one, where Hayes carried it over.

No Blood; Shackles On N.Y.? Stafford Stays In

By BOB CLARK
Daily Record City Editor

YANKEE STADIUM—Shackles on New York in Yankee stadium is like telling a candidate he can't speak at a political rally. It just can't be done.

The San Francisco Giants found this out yesterday when the Bronx Bombers returned to their favorite shooting gallery and eventually plucked off the West Coast nine better than Sergeant York holed the enemy in World War I.

It took a while for the "Madison Avenue Pin-Stripe Suiters" to blend a sustained attack to the delight of the partisan sell-out 71,424 rooters. The Yanks toyed with south-paw Billy Pierce for seven innings before finally putting together three straight hits with two San Francisco mis-cues for the winning rally.

It wasn't Pierce's fault that he hung around so long. The Bombers shot bullets right at Giant fielders for six innings before finally finding the holes that the trio of Tom Tresh, Mickey Mantle and Roger Maris made. The rally erupted like a Sears, Roebuck 75th anniversary sale. The giants added two in the ninth but they were only a free offering for the nonchalance Yanks.

Bill Stafford, the stiff arm righty, waltzed on Cloud 9 set-the game.

"I couldn't put my weight down on my foot but I thought my stuff was as good as before," said Stafford. "I just made a bad pitch to Bailey."

Houk now has his star left-hander, Whitey Ford, ready to go Monday with Ralph Terry to follow on Tuesday.

Said Roger Maris of his screaming single to right that scored the first two Yankee runs in the seventh, "I'll take that kind of hit instead of a homer any time. That Billy Pierce was always tough on me. I don't know what kind of a ball I hit because I was trying to concentrate."

Catcher Elston Howard said Stafford was "really hurt, but we told him to stay in there and we tried to give him some confidence."

"Bailey hit a fast ball for that homer, and Mays hit a slider. Stafford had plenty of good breaking stuff."

NEW YORK (AP) — Major Ralph Houk, late of the U.S. Army and now manager of the New York Yankees, said the reason he didn't take Bill Stafford out of the game Sunday when he was cracked on the shin in the eighth was that "I didn't see any blood."

And Stafford, it developed, didn't want to go out, despite the intense pain as he went the distance in the Yanks' 3-2 victory over San Francisco in the third game of the World Series.

It was a hard hit grounder from the bat of Felipe Alou and Stafford fielded it perfectly.

Not Worried

Houk wasn't even worried about his lanky pitcher in the ninth when Willie Mays doubled and Ed Bailey rifled a home run into the right field stands.

Mays, Willie McCovey, who grounded out, Orlando Cepeda who flied out, and Bailey all hit first pitches.

"When you are ahead like we were with three runs, you're going to try to get ahead of the batter even if it means throwing right over the plate," said Houk.

Stafford was cloaked in the trainer's room immediately after the game.

ting down the Golden Gaters with four hits. Don Larsen and a guy named Bolin followed Pierce to the hill but it only appeared like second rate actors following Frederick March on the stage.

From the Giants standpoint, their biggest contribution to the day came an hour before game time. When kind-hearted first baseman Orlando Cepeda gave away baseballs to friends in the stands. This was the closest Cepeda came to doing anything outstanding.

In the record department, the Yanks failed to send veteran of many series, Yogi Berra, to the plate. Thus, Berra, who breaks a mark every time he sneezes in a World Series, will have to wait for another day.

There's always tomorrow. And the Giants are tiredly telling reporters, "We did it before, and we'll do it again."

Officially though, tomorrow never comes.

Wilson Warriors Overpower Bangor

WILSON — A high-powered Wilson Warriors football eleven that ran at will and ham-strung the Bangor High on Saturday afternoon at Wilson left little in doubt as to the outcome of the annual fracas between the schools as the Warriors amassed a 46 to 0 drubbing on the Slaters.

Never in the history of Slater football has a Warrior team administered such a plastering. It seemingly was done with ease as the Warriors held a 33 to 0 edge at the end of the first half and held the Slaters to nary a first down in the first half.

Running the ends and powering the middle and slipping off tackle and doing most everything the Slaters could not, the Wilson attack seldom sputtered. To add insult to injury a sophomore back added the coup de' grace to the Slater pass near the end of the contest and on the Wilson 10 yard line and ran 90 yards for the final Wilson counter of the game.

After an exchange of punts in the first quarter, the Warriors got the ball on the Bangor 46. In three plays the Wilsonites were on the Bangor six. They jammed to the one and on the next play Sam Kurliko, Warrior fullback, hammered in for the first of the parade of Wilson touchdowns.

Following an exchange of punts after the ensuing kick off the Warriors again got possession on the Wilson 49. They scored again shortly afterward in a march the Slaters could not contain. They first made it first down on the Bangor 40 then Azzolino, Wilson quarter, fired to Hickey for 34 yards and a first down on the Bangor 1. Wilson was penalized but on the next play Helm went six yards around end for the second Wilson counter. He also added his first of four extra points via placement.

All Wilson The Slaters failed to contain the Wilson attack and were unable to mount the faintest type of offense of their own as the first half wore on. In the second quarter the Wilson eleven showed its greatest scoring punch when they added three more touchdowns and two extra points. A short five yard pass received by Hickey in the end zone scored the first of the three and Helm was good with the placement. Later Bangor fumbled on their own 28 and the Warriors recovered. On the next play Bob Saltern, strong running Warrior halfback rounded end for 28 yards and another TD for the victors. Helm's placement again found its mark.

In scoring its final counter of the first half the Warriors took advantage of a poor Bangor punt that went out of bounds on their own Slater 30. The Warriors rushed for a first down on the 20 and on the next play Azzolino found Timlan, Wilson end in the end zone and another Wilson touchdown was on the score board.

Relentless Attack Helm, Wilson back, ran for 28 yards and a Wilson touchdown in the opening minutes of the third quarter as the Warriors continued their relentless attack on the Slater goal line.

Helm again added the extra point as the Wilsonites now had the game in hand at 40 to 0. The Slaters mounted their best offensive threat in the final quarter when Jim Dietz, freshman quarterback generated a drive from the Bangor 2 to the Wilson 44 where it ran out of steam. Again the Slaters were off and running as they drove to the Wilson 23 and another first down.

Here the strategy backfired as Bob Plotts, Wilson defender, picked off Dietz's pass to Parsons just as he was headed for pay dirt and raced 90 yards for the final scoring of the game.

Works Hard Penn State, ranked fourth, had to work hard for an 18-7 triumph over Rice as Dave Hayes scored all the Nittany Lions' touchdowns. Southern California, No. 6, edged jittery Iowa 7-0, turning one of five fumble recoveries into its only score. Mississippi, No. 7, also indicated it won't be in the lower half too long with a 40-7 walloping of Houston, led by Glynn Griffing's four touchdown passes. Washington, No. 8, easily handled Kansas State 41-0 as six different players scored touchdowns. Two others of the elite were not so fortunate. Fifth-ranked Georgia Tech went down before Louisiana State in the nationally televised game 10-7 with Jerry Stovall scoring on a 98-yard kickoff return and setting up Lynn Amodeo's winning 24-yard field goal. Army's return to prominence was rudely jolted by Michigan, who stopped the 10th ranked ranked Cadets 17-7.

Purdue Wins Ron DiGravio came off the bench and directed Purdue to a 24-6 victory over Notre Dame, helped by the recall of three Irish touchdowns because of penalties. Jim Traficant pitched three touchdown passes and scored once in Pitt's 26-24 win over California. Mike Curtis scored the last two touchdowns as Duke came on with a second half binge to beat Florida 28-21. And end Hugh Campbell set an all-time collegiate pass receiving mark of 132 in three seasons in Washington State's 24-24 tie with Arizona State University. He nabbed five.

Woody Woodall kicked three field goals in Auburn's 16-6 victory over Kentucky and George Squires booted three 25-yard field goals in Wyoming's 16-7 win over Utah.

In other games, Minnesota overpowered Navy 20-0. Air Force shot down Southern Methodist 25-20. Terry Baker scored three touchdowns and gained 217 yards overall in Oregon State's 27-0 upset of Stanford and Hardin-Simmons ran college football's longest current losing string to 26 with a 29-8 loss to North Texas.

Crusaders Show Superb Defense

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Little Susquehanna university is proving that in college football defense goes a long way. The Crusaders extended their string to 16 games without defeat with a 3-0 victory over a tough Lycoming team Saturday.

Sparked by the passes and defense play of Pete Liske, Penn State scored two touchdowns in the second half to come from behind and defeat Rice university 18-7. Dave Hayes scored all three touchdowns for Penn State, the nation's number four team.

Elsewhere on the Pennsylvania gridiron scene, Moravian's unbeaten Greyhounds wiped out a 14-0 deficit for a 22-14 victory over Juniata; Lehigh rallied for 20 points in the fourth quarter to upend Gettysburg 20-3. Temple scored four second half TDs in a 38-7 rout of Muhlenberg. Pitt stood off a late California rally to prevail 26-24. Penn was blanked by Dartmouth, 17-0, and Bucknell lost 22-21 to Massachusetts on the last play of the game.

Susquehanna kept its goal line uncrossed in edging Lycoming (2-1) for its third victory of the season. The tough Crusaders' defense held Lycoming in the third quarter for four downs from the 5. Then, getting a break on a Lycoming bad pass from center on a fourth down punting situation, Tom Samuel kicked a 36-yard field goal. Susquehanna hasn't lost since Oct. 15, 1960, when it bowed 8-7 to Upsala.

Senior halfback Jim Kelyman scored twice in Moravian's third victory of the season. Kelyman's second TD and Vince Seaman's conversion earned a lead the Greyhounds never relinquished. Quarterback Walt King passed for one touchdown and scored another in Lehigh's late surge. Temple, leading 8-7 at halftime, broke up the game with alert defensive play, intercepting passes and recovering fumbles.

Receives Dose Bucknell, winner of its first two games by a single point, received a dose of its own medicine from Massachusetts. After scoring two TDs within the final two minutes of the fourth quarter for a 20-14 lead, the Bisons were nipped on a 61-yard, 3 play drive, the winning pass coming on the last play of the game.

Dartmouth clamped an iron clad defense on Penn and capitalized on a pair of third period breaks for a 17-0 Ivy League victory. Dartmouth fizzled on five earlier scoring opportunities before breaking a scoreless deadlock in the third quarter. Penn's lifeless offense managed 11 yards net. Villanova, slow to warm to its task, scored 28 points in the second half, breaking wide open a game that saw them lead Buffalo only 8-6 at halftime.

ESSC Wins On the state college conference front, East Stroudsburg, in the east walloped Kutztown 52-7, scoring the first eight times it got the ball. Mansfield shutout Cheyney 29-0. West Chester buried Millersville 38-0 with Joe Iacone scoring twice. Unbeaten Slippery Rock with quarterback Tony Nunes scoring one TD, passing for another and setting up a third with a 68-yard run, romped over Shippensburg, 34-13. In a non-conference game, California trounced St. Vincent 40-6. Indiana surprised Edinboro with a 14-0 victory.

Westminster remained unbeaten, edging Grove City 8-7 on a two point conversion; Waynesburg made it 3-0 for the season with a 26-6 triumph over Carnegie Tech as fullback Paul Stanek scored twice; Swarthmore with halfback Harvey Buck scoring twice remained undefeated, beating F. & M. 19-7.

Uclans Dispose OSU's Buckeyes

Associated Press Sports Writer By JACK CLARY

Alabama's foremost rival for major college football supremacy this year, Ohio State, has been disposed of in almost mortifying fashion by the stubborn band of UCLA Bruins that Buckeye Coach Woody Hayes ever ran into. Alabama didn't have any waltz Saturday night, either, in struggling past Vanderbilt 17-7, but it was nothing like the frustration the Buckeyes were subjected to in their 9-7 stunner at the hands of the UCLA'ans.

But Monday has to be one of solid contemplation for Hayes, who agreed after the loss that no team of his ever had been stopped three times on the one-yard line before — particularly since he is the foremost proponent of the "three yards and a cloud of dust" offense.

Winning Field Goal The Bruins evidently didn't know or didn't care. On their first T-formation play ever, they sent Kermit Alexander 45-yards for a score, then turned the job over to the defense until coach quarterback Larry Zeno kicked a winning 24-yard field goal with one minute, 35 seconds to play.

Alabama had to come from behind after Vandy jumped to a 7-0

Saving For Children

By William A. Doyle

Q. We are in our early thirties and I guess you would say we are in the "middle income" bracket. We find it quite difficult to save regularly toward our children's college education. Thanks to generous birthday gifts, our daughter, 7, has $3000 in the bank; our five-year old son has $1760 in the bank and owns one share of Standard Oil of New Jersey stock; our baby boy, 18 months has $750 in the bank.

Should the children's money remain in the bank, drawing 4½ percent interest? Or should it be invested in securities, such as stocks of mutual fund shares?

A. Maybe you are in the "middle income" bracket. But you seem to have some reasonably rich relatives and/or friends. Although I have no statistics to

Wilder Elected ASPSA President

PITTSBURGH (AP) — Henry L. Wilder, publisher of the Lebanon Daily News, has been elected president of the Associated Press State Association, succeeding Henry L. Satterwhite, publisher of the Bradford Era.

The election of new officers was held Saturday.

The publisher of the State College Centre Daily Times, Eugene J. Reilly, was named vice president; the AP chief of bureau in Pennsylvania, Joe Snyder, was re-elected secretary-treasurer.

Satterwhite presided at a luncheon meeting at which plaques for outstanding services as past presidents were presented to Edward Boyle, publisher of the Oil City Derrick, and Samuel Miller, publisher of the Allentown Call-Chronicle.

back me up, it's a safe bet that those bank accounts represent more savings toward college costs than is the case for the average American family.

Technically, unless the bank accounts are in the form required by the "gift to minors laws," you are not supposed to use that money to buy securities for the children. But let's be realistic. Parents do this all the time.

In each case, the parents must make their own decision on as to whether they want to take the money from a "fixed-dollar" situation and put it into "risk area" with the hopes that the securities they buy will grow in value.

Even though this is a basic family financial problem, there's no pat solution to it. The 4½ percent interest now available on many savings accounts insured by agencies of the Federal Government is a nice, safe thing. It's more than enough to offset the decline in the value of the dollar as a result of inflation.

Nevertheless, past performance shows that good common stocks and shares of well-managed mutual funds have put on fine increases in value — over the long term. The risk involved in such investments was pointed up this year, when the stock market went into its slump.

Because, in your case, you won't have to start meeting college costs for about 10 years, investments in common stocks and/or mutual fund shares should prove to be wise investments — if you are willing to take on some risk.

If you insist on absolute safety of the dollars involved, leave them in the savings accounts.
